CROESING - WYTULA

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the Catholic church at Hillcrest on Saturday morning last, November 27th, when Miss Pauline, youngest daughter of Mrs. Annie Wytula, of Hillcrest, was united in marriage to James, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Croesing, of Coleman. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Father O'Dea, of Bellevue, in the presence of a number of friends of the contracting parties. The bride was dressed neatly in a pink tulle gown, and carried a bouquet of carnations. She was attended by Miss Mary Yakubiec, of Hillcrest, while Mr. Lawrence Cyr, of Coleman, supported the groom. Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother. The young couple have taken up residence in Coleman, where the groom is employed with the International Coal Co.

MRS. F. CHARDON

PASSES AT FERNIE

One of the old-timers of Fernie passed on Monday morning of this week in the person of Angèle, beloved wife of Mr. Frank Chardon, aged 63.

Mr. and Mrs. Chardon were former residents of the Drumheller Valley, and moved to Fernie many years ago, where they operated a rooming house. Mrs. Chardon is survived by her husband, who is a brother of Mr. Paul Chardon, of Blaimore.

Funeral took place at Fernie at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning, and the remains were laid to rest in the Fernie cemetery.

Quite a number from Blaimore, including Mr. and Mrs. P. Chardon, Mr. F. Sylvester and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Pinkney, attended the last rites.

FORMER FERNIE LADY

HONORED AT COAST

The Vancouver Sun of November 19th contains a fine picture of Mrs. J. L. Gates, formerly of Fernie. It was published in connection with her work in the I.O.D.E. The article says: "The important and often arduous task of publicizing their big event of the year was entrusted by members of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire to Mrs. Gates, who has served well in that capacity for several years now."

"The event is the order's Empire fête, to be held Sunday at the Hotel Vancouver, with the bazaar in the afternoon and a cabaret in the evening. Over twenty chapters are taking part and proceeds are to be divided among them for their welfare work."

"Mrs. Gates was among those honored by receiving the King's Coronation medal for her work in ex-servicemen's organizations. She holds the distinction of being the only woman member of the Disabled Veterans' Association."

BLAIRMORE COMMUNITY SPORTS ASSOCIATION

The main object of the formation of the Blaimore Community Sports Association is to provide facilities for the people of Blaimore and Frank for all branches of sport, and the immediate object is to get the Blaimore Arena repaired and in operation, so that all the people of the community can enjoy good healthy sport in a closed rink with safety; we do not want to see the children of this community skating on a dangerous river, and we want the mothers to know that their children are skating and playing under safe, healthy conditions. Rough tactics and rough games on the ice will be strictly prohibited; we want all the people to realize this is their rink, operated for their benefit, and we want their co-operation and assistance in making this arena the centre of community activity.

Over 300 hundred members have already signed up to assist in the operation of the rink, and they and their families will be entitled to all the skating that is possible this winter without charge; moreover, they will be entitled to admission tickets to all hockey matches at less than half the regular admission charge. This means that approximately 900 people will be entitled to the benefits of this arrangement, and will fully appreciate and enjoy this community activity.

To make this possible it was necessary to apply to the citizens for contributions to repair the rink and get a complete new roof over the arena; over $750.00 has already been contributed by public spirited citizens and 300 rolls of new roofing have been purchased and delivered to the arena; this roofing is being laid principally by volunteer labor and the services of every volunteer helper is required to get the new roof in place before severe weather sets in. The fund for this repair work has been placed in a separate bank account, and has no connection with the fund for the operation of the rink.

As stated above, over 300 members have signed up as subscribing members for the operation of the rink, for which they will receive the benefits described; this fund has no connection with the repair fund and is in charge of a separate committee, and will be used for the operation of the rink. A rink manager has been appointed, and arrangements are being made to have the building fully covered by insurance against fire. Dressing rooms are being repaired and cleaned to make patrons of the rink more comfortable, and a committee will be in attendance at the rink every night to prevent any willful damage. The cost of operating the rink will consist of wages, insurance, light, fuel and minor repairs and this fund will be used exclusively for this purpose. There are a number of people of Blaimore and Frank who have not yet subscribed to either the repair fund or the operating fund. A donation of only 50c per month will entitle every one to a membership card and the privilege of free skating and reduced admission fee to hockey matches; let us all get together and put this worthy project on a safe and sound basis. This is YOUR ARENA now, and it can be made into one of the best community centres in Alberta, and worthy of the people of this district. Anyone residing in either the Frank or Blaimore school districts is entitled to membership by payment of this small subscription. The committees have been appointed from all classes and represent a cross-section of opinion of the people of the district. Support this community enterprise by subscribing to the funds; financial and physical help is still required for the completion of the repairs; more members are required to make the operating fund secure.

CAMPBELL-MORRISON

At high noon on Thursday last, November 25th, Dr. Robert Henry Campbell, second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ernest John Campbell, of Carnduff and Estevan, Saskatchewan, was united in marriage to Ruth Henrietta, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander M. Morrison, of Coleman. The drawing room of the Morrison home on Second Street, the east end of which was banked with beautiful chrysanthemums and ferns, was the scene of the ceremony, at which Rev. H. J. Bevan, of St. Paul's United Church, officiated in the presence of about thirty invited guests.

The bride entered the room with her father to the accompaniment of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Mrs. Percy Salt, of Hillcrest. The couple were unattended. The bride's mother stood at the left of the couple while the marriage service was read. The bride, dressed in brown, with hat to match, carried a beautiful bouquet of tallman roses.

Following the marriage service, the signing of the register was witnessed by Miss Helen G. Campbell, sister of the bridegroom, and Mr. R. F. Barnes. Mr. Percy Salt sang "Because," with Mrs. Salt playing the piano accompaniment.

A buffet luncheon was served, at which the health of the bride was proposed by Dr. F. K. MacLean, responded to by the groom. Dr. R. P. Borden proposed the health of the bride's parents, voicing the sentiment of the guests on this happy occasion, to which Mr. Morrison replied, expressing his appreciation of the kindly feelings expressed.

During the afternoon a reception was held, those assisting being Mrs. Dr. Borden, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clarke, of Edmonton, and Miss Helen G. Campbell.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. Stevenson, Hillcrest; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilson, Blaimore; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clarke, Miss Helen G. Campbell and Miss Molly Weaver, Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Salt, Hillcrest, and Mr. and Mrs. Brink, Lethbridge.

The newly married couple left during the afternoon for a honeymoon trip to Spokane and other points.

WRIGHT - CLELAND

A quiet wedding was solemnized in the United Church parsonage at Coleman on Wednesday afternoon, November 24th, when Verda Almyra, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Cleland, of Cowley, was united in marriage to Arthur Wright, second son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Wright, of Cowley. The bride was attended by Miss Edna Betts, while Mr. Leonard Wright supported the groom. The young couple left on a short honeymoon trip, and upon their return will take up residence on the groom's farm near Cowley.

BLAIRMORE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Starting from Wednesday next, Dec. 8th, Blaimore public and intermediate school children will be given the privilege of obtaining yearly loan cards at the Public Library for twenty-five cents a year.

The problem of best serving the school children, was discussed from many angles at the board meeting held in the library on Wednesday evening. Among the members of the board present being Mr. D. Macpherson, principal of the school and chairman of the library board, and Mr. A. E. Bosetti, chairman of the school board, also Mr. S. White and Miss G. Frey, of the school staff.

The decision of the board was finally summed up as follows: That the library be open to all school children—public, intermediate and high—free, for reference; that public and intermediate school children be granted a rate of twenty-five cents a year (THIS TO APPLY TO JUNIOR BOOKS ONLY), and that high school students pay regular rate for membership ($1.00 a year); that school board be notified of these rates and asked for their financial support.

Cataloguing and classifying under the direction of Mr. S. White and volunteers is progressing well and it is planned to have the junior books completed by Wednesday next and located in a separate room. To the present collection will be added a number of books that have been donated recently and others taken from the adult shelves, including the works of such writers as Sir Walter Scott, Charles Dickens, Rudyard Kipling, Rider Haggard, etc., considered highly suitable for junior readers and recommended for supplementary reading by departments of education.

It is hoped that parents will do everything possible to help their children take advantage of this privilege and enable them to benefit from a better class of reading than may be available otherwise.

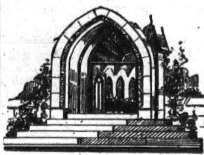

As membership dues are received more books—both story and reference—will be added to this section and all possible assistance given the children in selection of books and reference work.

Readers generally will be interested in knowing that very shortly a number of "up-to-the-minute" first editions will be put into circulation in the adult section of the library. Until the amount of the purchase price has been collected, these will be loaned out to members at a rental charge of ten cents a week and three cents a day for extra days, this to help finance the purchase of more books. This is a practice in force in many libraries at the present time. The names of new books will appear in the press and they will be reserved for readers on application.

The general public—members and non-members—are welcome to use the library and reading rooms for reference and reading purposes on Wednesdays and Saturdays, from 4 to 8 p.m.

Coleman Canadians hockey team will play the Maple Leafs at Lethbridge on Monday evening next, in a Christmas Cheer Fund game. They will again visit Coleman on Saturday, the 11th for the league opener. Kimberley Dynamiters will play at Coleman on the night of Tuesday, December 14th.

The young people's singing company from Coleman, numbering sixteen, gave a very interesting and enjoyable musical programme at the Salvation Army hall last Friday evening, with a full house in attendance. Capt. Stanley Mattison and Lieut. Fred Hewitt accompanied the young folk. In the afternoon the singers visited the hospital and sang some favorite hymns, which brought much blessing to the patients and stirred memories—Fernie Free Press.

INTERESTING SPEAKERS ARE HEARD HERE

Rev. A. E. Smith, of Toronto, veteran labor leader, and Walter Dent, both recently returned from Spain, addressed a meeting here last evening. Dent is the first Canadian boy to make an extensive tour of Canada. He is twenty-three years of age, born in Parry Sound, Ontario. At the age of sixteen he joined the New Youth Association of Canada, which later affiliated with the Co-operative Commonwealth Youth Movement.

He also interested himself in church organizations in North Toronto and attended the Toronto Youth Congress early in 1936. Of studious mind, he combined his labor activities with much self study and thus when he decided to go to Spain early in 1937 it was not merely through youth enthusiasm, but through a deep conviction that he could do his part to smash Fascism in Spain and thus defend Democracy in Canada. He arrived in Spain on February 14, 1937, and on February 25th, was already at the Jarama Front. During the Fascist attack on February 27th, while he was acting as co-runner, Walter was wounded in the head and the arm. He came out of the hospital in April and was sent to the "Officers' Training School. Late in May he went back to the Jarama Front and took up duties as Sergeant in the machine-gun company of the Lincoln Battalion. He took part in the Brunete offensive north of Madrid. At the end of September the MacKenzie-Papineau Battalion sent him back to Canada in order to acquaint the Canadian people with the work of the Battalion and to help raise comforts for them. "Wally" Dent is a fine clean-cut young boy, an able speaker, and has an intensely interesting story to tell to the Canadian people.

Resources For Western Benefit

The petroleum industry in Western Canada has been making great forward strides in the past few months and these recent developments indicate that the time may not be far distant when American sources of supply of crude will be shut off altogether and the entire consumption requirements of at least the prairie provinces be furnished from Western Canadian wells.

Such consummation of the aspirations of producers in what is at present the largest Western Canadian crude oil field, Turner Valley in Alberta, is not only highly desirable, but undoubtedly can be achieved in the very near future, provided producers, consumers, refining organizations, both privately and co-operatively owned, and the transportation companies sink any differences there may be between all or any of them and work together as a unit for the achievement of this objective.

There is no longer any doubt as to the capacity of the Turner Valley field to supply all Western Canadian requirements. As a source of supply of crude oil of excellent quality for possibly many years to come Turner Valley is a proven field and is not only able to supply all consumer demand in the prairie provinces but probably contains reserves sufficient to supply other markets as well. The oil is there. The market is here. All that is required is to make it economically feasible for the two to connect, and that means as cheap transportation as can be provided without loss to the carriers.

A Move Is Made

Some steps in this direction have already been taken by a reduction in railway rates on trainload basis between the Turner Valley field and Regina, Saskatchewan, where a number of refineries are located. As a result Imperial Oil Ltd. have announced their intention of expanding their already large plant in Regina, providing for a substantially increased number of employees. Smaller independent and co-operative refineries in the same city have also announced they are prepared to expand materially provided they are permitted to share in reduced transportation charges by a reduction in carrier rates comparable with the lowered trainload rates.

The owners of the large privately-operated refining plant have announced that they are not opposing the application of the smaller concerns for reduced freight rates on carload basis, but railway officials appearing before the Board of Railway Commissioners contested representations for such reduction. Arguments on both sides were presented and the matter was left in the hands of the Railway Board for a decision.

Pipeline Cheaper

From the viewpoint of both producer and consumer, however, chief interest must have centred in the undisputed announcement by transportation company representatives that trainload rates were reduced to meet threats of the mooted construction of a pipeline to carry the crude oil from the field near Calgary to Regina, and the further admission that oil could be conveyed by this method more cheaply than by rail even under the reduced trainload rate, available in practice only to the large concern.

By agreement between the producing companies, production at the wells has been pro-rated at 35 per cent. of capacity flow, in itself proof that the field requires a much larger market than economic restrictions at present permit.

What Might Be Done

This dual situation at the source of supply and at the smaller refineries, coupled with the information revealed at the hearing before the Board of Railway Commissioners, predicates the feasibility of some of the producers and the independent and co-operative refineries joining forces to finance a pipeline, unless some reasonable freight rate concession is granted the latter. The statement that crude can be carried more cheaply through a pipeline than by rail under lowered trainload rate seems to give a cue to the course that might be adopted by the smaller companies, if sufficient volume could be assured to make such a project economically sound. It is to be hoped, however, that some allowance will be made to place the smaller refineries on a more competitive basis and that such concessions can be made not only applicable to consignments to Regina but to all points in the prairie provinces where refineries are located. Such policy would ensure that all crude oil traffic available would be enjoyed by the railways and would undoubtedly result in material expansion in volume in the future, a result which should inure to the benefit of the transportation companies in the long run as well as to producers, the small refineries and the consumers.

Economic Balance Needed

From Saskatchewan alone it is estimated that not less than $10,000 a day has been finding its way into the treasuries of producers on the other side of the international boundary and American railways. Anything that can be done to divert this to the advantage of Western Canadian oil producers and the Canadian railways should also benefit the taxpayers and consumers of this country.

It has often been said, and with truth, that western economic life is not well balanced. Any steps which can be taken to develop western resources for western consumption, as well as other markets for any surplus, is a step in the direction of providing for a better economic balance.

Plane For King George

Was Especially Constructed And Will Carry Four Passengers

Emulating his royal ancestors, with their specially built carriages for their pleasure or for affairs of state, King George VI, an aviation enthusiast like his brother, the Duke of Windsor, now has a monoplane constructed especially for him.

Although the King, who was once a group captain in the British Royal Air Force, has already flown in the new monoplane, details of its construction have just been revealed by the Society of British Aircraft Constructors, Ltd. The airplane is a low-wing craft built largely of wood and powered by two Daimler Cheetah IX radial air-cooled engines of 350 horsepower.

In general, the royal airplane is similar to the standard British Airspeed Envoy transport monoplane, series 3. However, the base of many luxurious accommodations not found on the standard Envoy, including armchair seats for four passengers. Each of the seats is fitted with its own table, which has tumbler holders and ash trays.

Room has been made on the royal airplane for a steward, and the refreshment cabinet in his charge is located in the rear of the cabin. There is also space for the fitting of an occasional fifth passenger seat by the fuselage door.

A leather screen separates the cockpit from the cabin. The Air Council, which placed the order for the royal airplane, decided that radio equipment and a place for a radio operator should be located just behind the pilot, and because of this it was necessary to shift the forward bulkhead about nine inches.

The cabin is about four feet thick velvet curtains cover its doorway and deaden the propeller noise. Fuel tanks from the engines cannot enter the interior.

The plane has a retractable undercarriage which reduces air resistance to a minimum and allows the airplane to cruise easily at 150 miles an hour. The maximum speed level is 210 miles an hour, and the range is 650 miles in still air.

Chinese Show Heroism

Even If They Do Accept Death With Inscrutable Calm

The stand of the "doomed battalion of Chapei"—the 150 Chinese who refused to lay down their arms and go safely into the British Settlement—is an example of the supreme heroism, which only tragedy can produce.

War must always be a sordid, terrible thing. But it also produces epic bravery like this—and thousands of hours beneath black coats which have ventured no farther than Margate or Blackpool beat quicker when they read of it.

It is a favorite belief of the Westerner that the Oriental is persuaded by his philosophy to accept death with inscrutable calm. This does not make the decision of the battalion any less heroic. Man's love of life is the same the world over.

The bravery of this handful of men will always rank as one of the great stories in the blood-soaked pages of the history of Shanghai.—London Sunday Dispatch.

List Of Best Sellers

Statistics Kept At McGill Shows Devotional Book Leads

Statistics concerning "best sellers" on this continent are kept on file in the McGill University library school in Montreal. A list of 65 "best sellers," each of which sold 500,000 copies or more between 1875 and 1933, is headed by the well-known book, "In His Steps," written in 1899 by Charles Monroe Sheldon.

Gene Stratton Porter had a tremendous vogue, "Freckles" selling 2,000,000 copies and "Girls of the Limberlost," 1,700,000. "The Sheik," by E. H. Hull had a sale of 1,946,000. Lew Wallace's "Ben Hur" sold 1,950,000 copies.

Mark Twain's "Tom Sawyer" had a sale of 1,500,000 copies, a number equalled by Gene Stratton Porter's "Laddies." "The Call of the Wild," by Jack London, reached a sale of 1,454,000 copies. "The Story of the Bible," by Jesse Lyman Hurlbut sold 1,321,000 copies.

Rochester Short Of Nurses

Government Barring Of Canadians Criticized By Hospital Officials

A U.S. government rule barring Canadian nurses from taking up temporary residence in the United States brought criticism from Clara Strang, superintendent of nurses at Strong Memorial hospital, Rochester, N.Y. Charging a dearth of nurses there and in other border cities, Miss Denison said hospitals may be forced to turn away patients because of the rule.

One Line Started Career

Canadian Born Opera Star Got Chance During World War

The Great War gave Margaret Bannerman, Canadian-born opera star of "Three Waltzes" her chance on the stage.

The beautiful blonde who has just made her American debut at the Boston opera house recounted the story of her success as she rested between acts of the musical extravaganza. Miss Bannerman is a native of Toronto.

Her parents were living in war years in Folkestone, England, a centre of activities for the Canadian troops and their families. Everyone was doing war work and being too young to do anything else Margaret volunteered to sing at one of the entertainments for the soldiers. This concert was really the beginning of her theatrical career.

Her song impressed Producer Paul Robeson and she was sent to Teddy Royce, then selecting players for a musical comedy. During the second week of rehearsal, the stage manager called out:

"Come here, Canada! Try reading this line."

In spite of all her nervousness, she managed it well. "She said: 'Here comes Tina!' in a voice that was loud enough to be heard across the footlights."

Having covered herself with glory thus far, they gave her another line, which was to be sung, and Margaret Bannerman has been singing and speaking lines in English and Dominion stages ever since.

ALICE STEVENS' RECIPES

USE LEAVENING AGENTS

ACCORDING TO RULES

Have you ever started to make a cake and when the work was well under way, you suddenly realized that you were out of baking powder? If you understand a few of the underlying principles of leavening, you will have no more such difficulty. If not, your most likely solution will be a trip to your neighborhood grocery store.

Baking powder is made up of 50 per cent acid and 50 per cent alkali. The acid is a tartaric acid and the alkali is sodium bicarbonate. The acid is called "cream of tartar" and the alkali is called "soda ash." The remaining 25 per cent is made up of cornstarch. This starch absorbs any excess moisture and prevents the chemical action starting in the can.

If your recipe calls for two teaspoons baking powder, the rule is to substitute one teaspoon cream of tartar and one-half teaspoon soda ash. The general rule given for the use of baking powder is to use two teaspoons baking powder to each cup of flour. This will give a large amount to you but this rule calls for level measurements. The heaping measure that is used so often contains double the level measure that it used in the recipe.

One teaspoon soda is required for two cups of sour milk. It is also recommended that an additional teaspoon of baking powder be added for each cup of flour.

If eggs are used, the rule is to determine the amount of baking powder by one half teaspoon for each egg. The egg-white holds some air when beaten up, so that there is not the same amount of leavening agent required.

While these rules apply to all flour mixtures, there are slight variations when other ingredients are added. When Graham flour or fruit is added, the same grain is not expected. Have you ever tried adding raw apples to some of your recipes? Apple sauce is frequently added but it makes a nice change sometimes to add small pieces of raw apples. Try this muffin recipe and I think you will find it very successful.

APPLE MUFFINS

1 1/2 cups bran
1 cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 cup diced apples
1 tablespoon butter
1 egg
Pinch salt

Mix salt and flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add the bran and mix all the dry ingredients. Peel and core the apples cut into small pieces and add to the dry ingredients. Beat the egg and mix with the milk. Add to the dry ingredients and add the melted butter last of all. Put in greased muffin pans and bake in a moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes.

The Wings Of Desperation

The Case Of Brazil And The New Regime

Events in Brazil itself will have to clarify the situation. Meantime whether the new regime is to be regarded merely as another dictatorship of a familiar pattern or as an entering wedge for Fascism in the Western world, seems clear that it owes its existence in large measure to the economic adversities which have beset Brazil.

Despite its great natural wealth, that country has suffered heavily from depression. Its greatest crop, coffee, has been a drug on the market. Its farmers have experienced bitterly hard times. Some millions of its people, lacking any earthly possessions, have been sunk in misery. The burden of its foreign indebtedness has been heavy and its external bonds have been frequently in default.

Once more we have an illustration of the fact that dictatorship, whether old-style or new-style, is never the free choice of a contented people. It comes into power on the wings of desperation.—New York Times.

Beauty Is Revealed

When Dust Is Removed From Statuary In Westminster Abbey

Visitors to Westminster Abbey, recently opened to the public following removal of the Coronation setting, have been amazed by the transformation in the chapel of St. Edmund and St. Thomas, on the south side of the ambulatory.

Gone is the atmosphere of antiquity, no trace of grime and dust. Monuments, tombs and effigies placed in the chapel generations ago have a striking appearance of newness and have been restored to their original color. "Just an ordinary cleaning," attendants assure inquirers.

For instance, the elaborate canopy of the tomb of Sir Bernard Recorde, executed on Tower Hill in 1400 for plotting against Henry IV, now is snowy white. Before it was a dull slate color, streaked with black.

German Reparations

United Kingdom Has Received $10,000,000 In Payments

Lieut.-Col. John Colville, financial secretary to the treasury, questioned in the House of Commons, said the United Kingdom received $122,000,000 ($10,000,000 at today's rate of exchange) in reparation payments from Germany.

The aggregate of sums the United Kingdom received on account of war debts, excluding debts from the Dominions and colonies, was $71,000,000. The aggregate of the amount the United Kingdom paid the United States in respect to the war debt, including token payments, was $2,025,000,000.

HIS BACK ACHED FOR 4 YEARS

Kruschen Put Him Right

For four years, this man's back ached almost continuously. Now, at 57, he starts the day fresh as a daisy, and his back aches no more. Read his story:

"I had continuous backache for four years. I looked on the black side of everything. Now, I write with extreme gratitude for what Kruschen Salts has done for me. The freshness with which I start my day's work is perfectly marvellous. After seven days of Kruschen, I felt better and could get up immediately, without any special effort. I am 57, and my early morning dose of Kruschen is my salvation.—J.T."

The kidneys are the filters of the human machine. If they become sluggish, impurities find their way into the blood-stream and produce all the blood-related ailments, such as rheumatism, and depression.

Quickly coax your kidneys back to healthy normal action. As an immediate result, you experience relief from those old dragging pains. As you persevere, you lose your pains altogether.

Will Keep It Trimmed

Sir Hubert Wilkins Not Sacrificing His Distinguished Beard

There are many sacrifices imposed upon explorers by ruthless Arctic elements, but separation from his distinguished beard will not be one of them, Sir Hubert Wilkins admitted at Edmonton.

Although famous Arctic adventures have been heeded men, formation of ice in the facial foliage usually has persuaded them to discard the trimmings while in sub-zero regions.

While scorning the suggestion of shaving, the famous gentleman-adventurer admitted he was carrying a pair of clippers to the Arctic and the beard would be trimmed short during his far northern sojourn.

To-day's Best Story

A niece hurled Bert Saunders of Pittsburgh through a $69 glass window—at least that was his story to a magistrate who freed him of a charge of breaking the window. "I was just walking along," Saunders said, "and all of a sudden I had to sneeze. Just as I did, my honor, I stepped on a piece of fruit and the sneeze was so strong I was thrown through the window."

NEW WHEATS ARE TO BE SHIPPED TO BRITAIN FOR TESTS

Winnipeg.—Millers of the United Kingdom will have an opportunity to submit reports on the milling quality of Thatcher and Coronation rust-resistant wheats prior to permanent establishment of grades under the Canadian grain act, it was announced by the board of grain commissioners.

First commercial test shipment of these wheats, 24,000 bushels of each variety, is being loaded in freight cars for shipment overseas early in January.

E. B. Ramsay, chief commissioner of the board, and Dr. W. F. Geddes, chief chemist, expect to go to England to observe the tests.

Though Thatcher wheat has been passed by the board as equal to Marquis and allowed under the grain act to grade No. 3 Northern or better, there has been considerable controversy on its merits.

Coronation wheat, a new variety grown principally in Manitoba under contract, has been licensed for sale as No. 3 Northern or lower. It has not been accepted as equal to Marquis.

At the present time the associated committee on grain research is conducting tests. Dr. Geddes said out of these tests and consideration of English millers' report will be taken into account when the committee discusses whether to recommend Coronation as equal to Marquis.

Tests are being made in laboratories in the three provinces and at Ottawa.

Coronation wheat, originally developed by the Dominion rust laboratory in Winnipeg a few years ago, was discarded until last spring when Dominion authorities considered possibilities of the wheat as a rust-resistant variety.

Farmers in Manitoba produced approximately 150,000 bushels this year which was purchased by the Canadian wheat board.

Literary Awards

Lord Tweedsmuir Presents Medals For Canadian Achievement

Toronto.—The governor-general's annual literary awards were presented for the first time by Lord Tweedsmuir at Canadian poetry night, sponsored by the Canadian Poetry Magazine.

The medal for general literary achievement went to the late T. B. Robertson for his newspaper writing in the Winnipeg Free Press.

Bertram Brooker, Toronto, was awarded the medal for fiction for his novel, "Think of the East."

The Searles prize for poetry, given shortly before her death by Mrs. M. M. Howard of Toronto, was presented by Lady Tweedsmuir to Prof. George Herbert Clark, Kingston, Ont.

Six Canadian poets gave readings from their work. They were Katherine Hale, Sir Charles G. D. Roberts, Wilson MacDonald, E. J. Pratt, Prof. Clarke and Nathaniel Benson.

Danger Of Air Raids

Sir Samuel Hoare Warns British People Of Risks

London.—Sir Samuel Hoare, home secretary, spoke frankly in the House of Commons on the dangers of air raids.

"I believe that whatever we may do in the way of preparations there will be a risk of air raids, and if there are air raids there almost certainly will be loss of life and terrible destruction of property."

He urged the danger be not minimized, but expressed the opinion that precautions would lessen the danger. When the bill now before the house, the air raids precautions bill, is enacted, the government intended, Sir Samuel said, to have a much more active system of training throughout the country.

Praise For Wilkins

Rear Admiral Byrd Refers To Hazardous Flight In Arctic

New York.—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Antarctic and Arctic explorer, in a letter to the New York Times, praised the courage of Sir Hubert Wilkins and his Canadian pilots, Herbert Hollick-Kenyon of Toronto, and Al Cheesman, Port Arthur, for their hazardous Arctic flights in search of six-lost Russian flyers.

"Flying over the Arctic during the winter night is pioneer work of the strictest sense of the word. . . . But it can be done, and all of us wish Wilkins and Hollick-Kenyon, his pilot, the best of luck," wrote Byrd.

Demand For Turkeys

Western Poultry Raisers Cannot Fill All Orders From Britain

Winnipeg.—Poultry raisers of Western Canada have lost a great number of Great Britain's Christmas turkey orders this year because the crop would not be matured in time for the last shipment to leave Canada, Dec. 4.

W. A. Landreth, of the Manitoba Co-operative Poultry Marketing Association, said demand for western turkeys has been so heavy there is no prospect of fulfilling it.

Orders for 1937 festive season are considerably higher than in 1936, Mr. Landreth stated.

BRUSSELS PARLEY IS ENDED WITHOUT DECIDING ACTION

Brussels.—Efforts of the Brussels conference to end the Chinese-Japanese conflict were thrown back to direct exchanges between the world's capitals.

The conference adjourned indefinitely after adopting a declaration condemning the use of armed force in disputes between nations and strongly urged hostilities between Japan and China be suspended.

Only Italy of the 19 nations represented voted against the declaration.

Arrangements were made for recall of the conference whenever its chairman or two members "have reported that they consider that its deliberations can be advantageously resumed."

The participating governments, the declaration said, meanwhile would have time "to exchange views and further explore all peaceful methods by which just settlement of the dispute may be attained."

Thus ended what was called the "first phase" of a three-week quest for a solution of the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

The session heard Senator Raoul Dandurand, Canada's representative and dean of the parley delegates, thank King Leopold for hospitality extended to the conference by Belgium.

The conference was called under terms of the 1922 nine-power treaty which pledged respect for China's territorial and administrative integrity.

Japan, one of the signatories, refused several invitations to attend.

Norman H. Davis, head of the United States delegation, stressed in a key speech at the closing session the importance of continuing "earnestly and actively" the search for a peaceful settlement of the conflict.

He said he was going home for that purpose to consult his government.

Davis declared suspension of the conference sessions did not "in any sense signify that the problem we have been considering is to be dropped or that our interest in its solution is to be in any way lessened."

The declaration adopted by the conference said in part:

"The conference is convinced that force by itself can provide no just and lasting solution for disputes between nations."

"It continues to believe it would be to the immediate and ultimate interest of both parties to the present dispute (China and Japan) to avail themselves of the assistance of others in an effort to bring hostilities to an early end as a necessary preliminary to the achievement of a general and lasting settlement."

Chief Justice Of Manitoba

Appointment Of Former Provincial Treasurer Has Been Announced

Ottawa.—Ewen A. McPherson, former Manitoba provincial treasurer and executive member of the House of Commons for Fortage in the Prairie, has been appointed chief justice of the Manitoba court of king's bench.

Mr. McPherson succeeds Mr. Justice D. A. Macdonald, who died last month. The appointment was announced by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Manitoba's new chief justice is a native of the United States. He was born Jan. 27, 1878, in Worth county, Mo., of Scottish parents with whom he came to Canada a year later. He was educated at Portage la Prairie and practiced law there.

In 1910 Mr. McPherson was candidate for Portage la Prairie in the provincial elections but was defeated. He ran again in 1914 and was successful but met defeat again in 1921. In the Dominion general elections of 1926 he defeated Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen in Portage la Prairie and was himself defeated in 1930.

A candidate for the same riding in the provincial elections of 1932, Mr. McPherson was defeated but was appointed provincial treasurer and returned in the deferred election for Rupert's Land, remaining in the provincial legislature until 1936.

Discuss Air Mail

Canadian And U.S. Officials Will Hold Conference

Ottawa.—Canadian and United States air mail, postal and state department officials will hold a general conference in Ottawa, Jan. 10, to discuss conditions between new trans-Canada air mail lines and United States lines. One new western connection is certain, that between Great Falls and Lethbridge, but the question is to be settled as to whether it is to be operated by an American, Canadian or joint company. It is possible United States air mail to Alaska may go via this route to Edmonton and White Horse but United States officials are divided as Pacific coast points are urging the Alaskan service should go by the British Columbia coast to Skagway. The disadvantage of that route is prevalence of dangerous winter fogs and requirements of heavy snowplows. Against this is weighed the wilderness between Edmonton and White Horse.

Many other questions relating to exchange of air mail between the two countries and other international connections will be dealt with by the conference.

Irrigation Scheme

Outlines Plan To Control Waters Of Western River

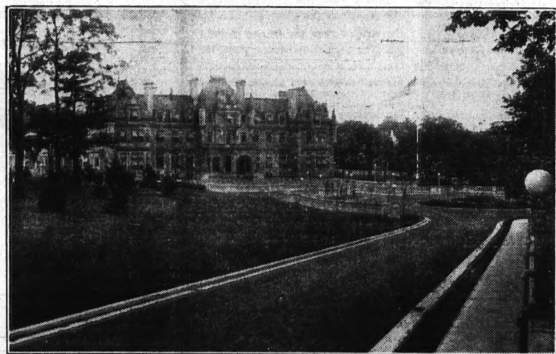

Peterborough, Ont.—A river control and irrigation scheme designed to alleviate drought condition in the Canadian west was outlined here by R. O. Sweeney, Montreal consulting engineer, in an address to the annual banquet of Engineering Institute of Canada.

"To revitalize the prairie provinces and rehabilitate their productivity we must set to work toward capturing and controlling the ample moisture that now flows from the Rockies via the North and South Saskatchewan rivers and their scores of tributaries to the Arctic ocean," he said.

In the main, his plan called for control of the North and South Saskatchewan and Deer rivers by dams and ditches, and proper control of hundreds of small streams and lakes throughout the entire drought area.

ONTARIO'S GOVERNMENT HOUSE MAY BE CLOSED

Chorley Park, official residence of Ontario's Lieutenant-Governors since 1915, shown above, is very much under discussion at present. As long as Hon. Dr. Bruce remained in office, Premier Hepburn declared he would not carry out his promise to close the palatial mansion; but, Dr. Bruce has resigned, and he will now be succeeded by Albert E. Matthews. It is reported that Chorley Park will be closed.

May Retain Nationality

Canadian Woman Marrying Foreigner May Keep Canadian Citizenship

Ottawa.—By virtue of regulations effective since January, 1932, a Canadian woman marrying a foreigner may retain her Canadian citizenship if she elects to do so. Her Canadian status is abandoned only if she chooses to adopt the nationality of her husband.

Attention of government officials was drawn to information given the British House of Commons by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden when he expressed the opinion Canada had not adopted legislation of this type.

Mr. Eden told the house of the Australian and New Zealand legislation providing a British woman, although married to a foreigner may elect to retain, while in those countries, her full citizenship rights.

Arab Terrorist

British Military Tribunal Has Passed Sentence Of Death

Jerusalem.—The newly-created military tribunal at Haifa passed sentence of death by hanging on one of Palestine's most dangerous Arab terrorists.

The death sentence was decreed for the 70-year-old bearded Sheikh Farhan as-Saudi, captured along with seven of his followers in a wheat bin in the Jenin region. Only Major-General Archibald Wavell, commander of the British forces in Palestine, can modify the sentence of the military tribunal, established to stamp out terrorism.

The sheik has been described as one of the most formidable of the Arab terrorist chieftains.

Cattle Prices

Show Decline Over Last Year At Royal Winter Fair

Toronto.—Prices on market cattle auctioned at the Royal Winter Fair showed marked declines from the previous year.

A grand champion steer exhibited here by University of Alberta, of Edmonton, brought 50 cents a pound against 75 cents in 1936. Reserve went at 40 cents, compared with 60, last year.

Market men regarded the prices as satisfactory when the present shaky condition of livestock trading is considered.

Unemployment Insurance

Details Of System Not Being Given Until Later

Ottawa.—Details of the Dominion government's proposed national unemployment insurance system will not be given until the necessary legislation is brought into the House of Commons, Prime Minister Mackenzie King advised Premier Aberhart of Alberta.

Mr. Aberhart sent a telegram to the prime minister stating his government would favor anything beneficial to workmen but would require more specific information before agreeing to the plan. Mr. Aberhart also made some suggestions for financing the plan.

Less Wheat In Store

Total Was 69,818,376 Bushels For Third Week In November

Ottawa.—The Dominion bureau of statistics reported that in the week ended Nov. 19 was 3,245,756 bushels less than a week before and 65,638,910 less than a year before. The total was 69,818,376. In the United States were stored 3,331,000 bushels of Canadian wheat, 881,968 more than the previous week, but far less than a year before when the total was 24,127,624.

JAPANESE PLANES BOMBARD CANTON AND MANY KILLED

Shanghai.—Japanese planes bombed Canton, China's southern metropolis, for more than an hour, and reports reached Hongkong 100 civilians were killed.

Planes dropped projectiles, apparently aiming at railways and stations. They also struck at suburban Honan, across the Pearl river, where a number of Cantonese civilian and military leaders make their homes.

Two Japanese bombing planes protected by pursuit craft dropped a score of projectiles along the main thoroughfares of Nanking, killing 40 civilians.

While pursuit planes engaged Chinese craft in a dogfight, the bombers passed through anti-aircraft fire to attack the Chinese emergency airfield between Nanking and Wuhu, a short distance up the Yangtze.

The bombardment came as foreign sources confirmed reports long-awaited Russian-manufactured planes arrived at the capital to bolster the Chinese air force. The Japanese raid was believed to have been an attempt to smash the new craft quickly.

The 62 foreigners remaining in Nanking asked the Japanese to make their quarter a neutral zone to prevent possible destruction by bombs or shells. Japanese authorities said they viewed the proposal in principle, but added there were military considerations which the army had to take into account.

The two warring factions issued conflicting communiques on the fighting along the Wuh-Kianglin line, some 100 miles east of Nanking.

Japanese claimed steady progress, but Chinese said they were repulsing attacks south of Lake Tai and preventing attempts to land behind Chinese lines. They asserted 10 Japanese launches attempting to cross the lake were sunk with the loss of 200 men.

South of Shanghai, foreigners and Chinese at Hanchow asked the British, United States and French consuls to intercede with both Chinese and Japanese to keep warfare away from the city. Fifteen Britons, nine French and five Americans remained at Hanchow.

There was a growing belief Chinese might fight only as face-saving, instituting rear-guard actions without making a stand at Nanking. Chinese government officials were understood to favor such a plan because it would save from destruction new government buildings, palatial residences and modern highways worth hundreds of millions of dollars.

The international committee of foreign residents at Nanking had a precedent for their neutral zone request. When Shanghai warfare shifted to western areas after the fall of Chapel, the French Sincow mission properties and surrounding area were neutralized.

Japanese control of Shanghai, which tightened when Japanese took over the customs administration, has become still more effective. Five of China's largest morning newspapers with a combined circulation of 400,000, suspended under pressure of Japanese authorities who insisted international settlement officials' suppress all anti-Japanese activities.

POLICE OF PARIS CONTINUE TASK OF PROBING PLOT

Paris.—Proposed "military headquarters" of the secret Rightist organization in Paris was uncovered as authorities carried out raids in an attempt to run down a suspected link between the organization and Monarchists.

Authorities announced leaders of the plot against the Republic had between 5,000 and 6,000 secret militiamen enrolled, of whom 1,500 were stationed in Paris. All were believed provided with arms.

Following the arrest of General Edouard Deneugre and Eugene Deloncle, officers of the West Coast Royal, personal multiplicity of the Count of Paris, the son of the Duke of Guise, pretender to the throne of France, was raided.

In a luxurious Paris residence on the Avenue De Villars, police found a secret arsenal. There the conspirators apparently planned to establish the military government of the city when they rose to overthrow the Third Republic.

In its cellar police found a miniature military storehouse, containing 12 automatic rifles, nine guns of foreign make, a Hotchkiss machine gun, nine cavalry muskets, nine hunting rifles, 250 loaded grenades and about 14,000 cartridges.

Owner of the residence is Pierre Parent, an architect. He was arrested at the Chateau De St. Lezer, near Rouen, with his cousin, M. De Bremonville, and sent back to Paris for questioning.

Several documents were seized when authorities searched the editorial rooms of the Courier Royal, M. Langome, secretary of the newspaper, was questioned.

Deloncle, a banker described as the political-financial "brain" of the cabal, was taken into custody in central Paris. General Deneugre, retired air minister official, was lodged in La Sante prison after questioning.

It was believed possible the case of the Royal organization, investigation of which has unearthed large caches of arms and caught many suspects in a nationwide police drive, may eventually come before the senate, sitting as a supreme judicial tribunal.

The two men were accused officially of "association with known criminals." Authorities said the charge probably would be raised to "conspiracy against the internal security of the state."

Extent of the organization, formally known as "Les Comites Secrets d'Action Revolutionnaire (the Secret Committee for Revolutionary Action)"—or the "Csar," by abbreviation—is believed to have political importance. The senate may reserve final decision itself, by constitutional right.

Castles and secret tunnels have enjoyed prominence in the hunt. The dangerous arsenals, choked with rifles, machine guns and munitions have been uncovered in widely scattered parts of the country.

At Montbellard the homes of seven members of Col. Franco's De La Rocque Rightist. Social party were searched. Police refused to make any comments on possible findings.

Train Plunges Into River

Two Men Killed In Accident Near Princeton, B.C.

Vancouver.—Two railway workers were killed near Princeton, B.C., when a 40-ton freight engine and a metal-laden box car fell through a bridge into the Coquihalla river, Canadian Pacific Railway officials said here.

The dead: W. E. Moore, 46, brakeman, Princeton, B.C. John Collins, 59, bridgeman, Merritt, B.C.

Other members of the crew, including the engineer and fireman, escaped injury.

The accident occurred on the Kettle Valley line of the C.P.R. Princeton is about 150 miles east of Vancouver.

Railway officials here said the train was proceeding at three miles an hour after stopping at the east end of the bridge, constructed of timber. It had just started to cross when the bridge collapsed, carrying the engine and first car of the freight train into the river.

THE MAN FROM MARS RETURNS TO EARTH

(An Epilogue)

Two years have gone by since the Man from Mars last visited Alberta. The election is over and he again returns to observe the results.

The Premier is resting in his private office after having demolished a T-Bone steak at the McDonald hotel. Enter the Man from Mars.

The Premier (surprised, no doubt): Well, well, stranger. The work of providence is past understanding.

M. from M.: The last time I saw you it was the works of the province, the banking system, the 50 big shots and all the other stooges of your funny paper province.

The Premier: Oh, yes, I remember, we discussed them and you were amazed. That was before the election. You didn't wait to see the result?

M. from M.: No, that's why I called now. Elections do make a difference, don't they? You have put on much weight. The result was favorable, I take it.

The Premier: Yes, they didn't have a chance. You remember I pointed out at that time the old-time politicians fooled the people with promises. M. from M.: But you promised to.

The Premier: Yes, but I only promised promises. You see when I promised 2 I also added 2 and made it equal 5.

M. from M.: You mean 25. Correct me if I'm wrong.

Premier: Quite so, I had almost forgotten. Of course it was all figuratively speaking; you will remember I spoke of tickets, script, bluffs, cheques, etc. That was the time we had no use for money.

M. from M.: No, it did seem silly stuff. But now? But now?

The Premier: Well, now we deal in actual figures—and money makes the mare go.

M. from M.: Is that another figure of speech?

The Premier: No, hardly. I think I would call that a Truism.

M. from M.: It's all so confusing. I remember when I was here before I couldn't make head or tail out of it all, but you were so kind as to explain things. You spoke of basic dividends, cultural heritage, the blood stream of the state, just price and such a lot of things that seemed so simple; and they were simple weren't they?

The Premier: Sure thing, the majority were, that's why we won.

M. from M.: Then you mean to say it was just a play and you were only acting?

The Premier: But we're still acting. We had three acts thrown out this session, but we have plenty more and they'll bring down the house.

M. from M.: The house is where you do the acting, of course, and figuratively speaking you mean will defeat the government.

The Premier: No, I must correct, a government is only defeated if it resigns, but we don't do that. We theoretical people have a maxim that we observe very religiously "The Play Must Go On."

M. from M.: It is all very strange. I am afraid I am no further ahead than when last I visited your province. But tell me, these fifty big shots, do they enjoy the play—do they laugh?

The Premier: They're the only ones that do. They stay in the wings and everything I try to pull a stunt they laugh like the very dickens. It's ra-

POLITICS ON THE AIR

Calgary, Dec. 1.—Having spent many weeks in efforts to arrive at a practical basis of co-operation between various political organizations, with the object of restoring sane and progressive government in Alberta at the earliest possible moment, Liberal leader N. L. Gray, of Brooks, plans to speak to the people of the province in a radio broadcast from this city on the night of Monday, December 6th, from 10.15 to 10.45 o'clock immediately after the regular news broadcast over station CFCN.

Mr. Gray intends to frankly reveal to Alberta citizens what his plans for political co-operation were at the time of his election at the provincial Liberal convention in Calgary, June 4 and 5, how he has endeavored to carry these plans into effect during the last five months, and what his policies are for the future.

The Liberal leader will give at least two provincial broadcasts, the second to be delivered in Calgary Monday, December 13, at 10.15 p.m. over station CFCN. Mr. Gray is now a member of the legislature, having been elected as Liberal leader in the second Edmonton by-election.

Mrs. J. P. Ferguson, president of the Alberta Women's Liberal Association, will speak over a provincial wide radio network on December 16 at 3.30 to 3.45 p.m.

ANNIVERSARY OF HALIFAX EXPLOSION

Monday next will mark the twentieth anniversary of the explosion of the dynamite-laden ship Mont Blanc, which flattened a quarter of the city of Halifax, Nova Scotia.

her trying; but the people out front applauded every time.

M. from M.: Then you play to the gallery.

The Premier: Do you mean the press gallery? I have tried it, but they take me seriously. It's too bad, they're such good fellows, too; but I must tell you a secret. I have thought out a good joke on them. The newspapers are always wanting information about the government, so I have appointed a fellow to run the "Publicity Bureau," and his name is——haw, haw, haw. (The Premier roared with laughter while the Man from Mars wrinkled his brow in perplexity).

The Premier (recovering from laughter): His name is ALLNUTT—haw, haw and now haw, haw!

M. from M.: I am afraid I can't get anything funny about the name; he probably got it from his father.

The Premier: He did—but the newspapers won't think of that; you see they always take me serious.

M. from M.: Well, well, my friend, I must be going. I am still unable to understand your strange province; when last I was here it all seemed so simple, the way you explained your new system. I am afraid you fooled me as you did the people, as I too, took you seriously. There may come a day when the people of your province may also see how funny you are and they may even start laughing at you, then, I am afraid, that will be one big joke on you.

The Premier: What's that?

M. from M.: The next election.

NEWS FROM EDMONTON

(By C. B. McIntosh)

Edmonton, Alberta, Nov. 29.—Fighting again for the freedom of speech and of the press, which everyone thought was established for all time throughout the British Empire's democracy, but which the Alberta government, now imperially Alberta publishers and editors, had almost finished preparations this week to battle the Aberhartian idea that a political party, because it happens to hold office, should be able to grind freedom of the press under its heel.

Alberta publishers have united to present to the supreme court of Canada their case for the maintenance of British freedom of speech and of the press, and are ready to plead their case before the privy council in London after that. The fight is against the so-called "Accurate News and Information Act," otherwise known as the press bill, passed by the Alberta legislature early in October. The bill was referred to the courts by the federal government after Hon. J. C. Bowen, lieutenant-governor of Alberta, reserved royal assent to it.

A sample of Aberhart government's idea of "accurate news and information" was presented in November in an article which appeared in the Social Credit board's propaganda bureau. The article was devoted to the great bill itself.

"We are in the midst of a fight in which we neither give nor expect to receive any quarter," the government proclaimed the introduction of the article. "The forces opposed to us are not really so much in the effort will be spared to add new fuel to a quenchless blaze and hell of greed, envy, lust, hate, revenge and every foul passion of the pit in order to stop us."

That's the stuff which the people of Alberta are paying the government to distribute through the propaganda bureau. The statement itself is blatant propaganda—and deliberately false. The fact is that no one—no party, no individual, no commercial or financial group—has lifted a finger against the Social Credit party or against the government, except for the use of radio time and newspaper space which were right out in the open—public appeals to the electorate at large. And those broadcasts, never yet have come close to equaling, in any week, the amount of time used by the Social Credit outfit. Those public appeals are appeals to reason. They are made on week-days, honestly and at full radio rates. They are not made on Sundays, in the guise of religious services and at religious rates.

The rest of that article issued by the propaganda bureau was an example of every fault that Premier Aberhart ever has alleged against the press but has never been able to substantiate, unless he included newspaper quotations from his own speeches: "falsities, misrepresentation, impotent, tools of selfish interests."

The propaganda bureau actually asserted that the bill demands only two things: first, if there is any misstatement of facts with regard to the government's policy, the paper that utters it shall, if requested to do so, publish a correction; the second is that they shall, when required, disclose the source of their information to the chairman of the Social Credit board.

If that second point were to be pressed on some occasions, it would be highly embarrassing to members of the government. Premier Aberhart is the most precise source of those statements regarding government policy which Alberta daily newspapers sometimes attribute to "authoritative quarters" and "informed circles."

And most of his ministers have been in the same position many times. They give newspapers certain information on condition that the newspapermen will not say that it came from the minister involved. Frequently the purpose is to test the opinion upon the point in question; if the public reaction is unfavorable, the government member can always deny that the report had any foundation in fact. That is known as "flying a kite."

It is NOT only when it has made a misstatement that a newspaper could be forced to publish government statements free of charge, according to the bill. For the bill says that the Social Credit board may demand "correction or amplification" of anything bearing on the government.

And in saying that the bill "demands only two main things" of newspapers, the propaganda article was false, for it failed to mention the fact that the bill clothes the government with power to suspend any newspaper for any period it desires; or prohibit a newspaper from employing the services of any writer whom the government may specify; or prohibit the newspaper from using information obtained from any source specified.

There is the gag on the press; that is the muzzle; that destroys the freedom of the press, and makes it the mouthpiece of a political party which is driven to censorship to hide its own inconsistency or government. The article quotes what it claims to be the statement of "the editor of an Alberta journal," saying that he would not dispute the allegation of newspaper distortion of government statements; that editor does not name the distortion; it does not reveal the source of information, if any.

The propaganda article quotes what it describes as "something that Lord Tweedsmuir has written," saying that a character of fiction in one of Lord Tweedsmuir's books says "the press does not greatly matter, since the press is not an independent power. But it quotes just that brief remark without explaining that while Lord Tweedsmuir did write it, he was writing not the fiction but of a real character and taken out of its context.

It goes on to claim that the government has devoted itself "to fighting the money hounds and their fac-

ALBERTA YOUTH CON.

GRESS MAKES HISTORY

Health insurance, the boycotting of aggressor nations and the strengthening of collective security through the League of Nations, a plebiscite to decide Canada's participation in event of war, long term government loans to assist young farmers, establishment of a wheat board, and a youth centre plan for Alberta were among the most significant recommendations brought forward by the Alberta Youth Congress meeting in Calgary on November 20th and 21st. One hundred and thirty-four delegates representing twenty four organizations came from Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge, and many country points from the extreme north to the extreme south of the province. It was generally recognized that never before had such a large group of young people shown such a fine spirit of co-operation in making mutual concessions and arriving at definite conclusions.

In the words of Gilbert Wright, president of the Edmonton Youth Council, young people are learning to see their similarities of opinion, and to conquer their differences. The prevailing harmony and enthusiasm on the part of all groups represented is a clear indication that Alberta youth is on the march and will go a long way towards finding a solution to many of the problems which vex us in our complex world.

A very enjoyable banquet and dance were held at the Buffalo Cafe on Saturday night, and greetings were received from Mayor Andrew Davidson, city of Calgary; Mayor J. Clarke, of Edmonton; the town council of Blairmore, Rev. Melville Aitken, United Church Ministerial Association, and the National Council of the Youth Congress. At the Sunday session, held in Western Canada High School, further greetings were presented by Rev. Harding Priest, provincial supervisor, General Board of Religious Education, Church of England; Rev. Dr. Warwick Kelloway, Knox United Church; Mr. F. Priestley, United Farmers of Alberta; Mrs. Marie Malloy, United Farm Women of Alberta, and Dr. W. G. Carpenter, principal, Institute of Technology and Art.

Each group met in caucus, after which committees made up of delegates from different organizations met to discuss proposals and bring forth recommendations. These were thoroughly discussed and finally agreed to before the whole congress at the evening session.

A general outline of the Dominion Provincial youth rehabilitation program was also given by Mr. J. H. Ross, provincial supervisor, and a very fruitful discussion followed. This exposition of the youth plans throughout the province was of great interest to the youth delegates as it is becoming more and more realized that these schemes for youth rehabilitation were initiated by the government largely through the recommendations brought forward in the Dominion House last spring by three young M.P.s, members of the youth congress, Denton Massey, Paul Martin and T. C. Douglas.

Among those heading the provincial council of the youth congress for the coming year are Gilbert Wright, Bill Thornton, Ella Huston, Joe Mcfluenced press—even though the government possesses no newspapers with which to answer their continuing unreasoning indiscriminate criticism and abuse. The true facts are these: There is not one newspaper in this province influenced by finance. NOT one newspaper swung editorial support to the government in return for the series of advertisements which the banks bought in every Alberta paper—one of the most fruitful money-makers which the rural newspapers ever got. The government has supporters among the Alberta press—one daily and half a dozen weeklies; and if the will of the people were so preponderantly in favor of the government as is claimed by William Aberhart and others who draw their salaries from the public treasury, those Social Credit newspapers would have circulations much larger than the insignificant totals they now enjoy.

Alberta newspapermen have fought valiantly on the side of truth during the past two years. Many of them have suffered by it, but their courage and their integrity and their honesty towards the public have earned them Alberta's eternal gratitude, when they are recognized.

THE Secret Life of MARY JONES

UNLIKE most busy young wives, Mary Jones had a secret life all of her own. A happy quiet interlude in bustling days that was hers alone to do what she pleased.

These "secret" extra hours gave her time to read, sew or rest—and a hundred and one things lots of women never find time for.

This was possible because she had learned of a secret baking method that enabled her to make bread and rolls in half the time with only a quarter of the work.

This secret—and this leisure—can be yours too—if you'll just write to The Quaker Oats Co., Dept. S-41 Saskatoon, Sask., for a FREE booklet entitled—"The Quaker Easy Method of Bread Baking!"

NEW THREE-MASTED SCHOONER

The latest addition to Canada's navy is the three-masted sailing vessel H.M.C.S. Venture, built by Canadian craftsmen under the national defence appropriation which caused an interesting debate in the House of Commons last year. The beautiful new blue-tailed ship was put through her hull-testing paces off Halifax last month and was pronounced seaworthy and efficient by the examining experts. She will be used as a training ship, where ladies joining the Canadian naval service will be given their initial experience in seamanship. In batches of twenty-four the newcomers to the navy will be given a three-month's training course on the Venture as the first step toward able seaman rating.

Pupil: "I can't read this correction of yours, sir." Teacher: "It says you must write Commons last year. The beautiful more clearly."

Regular Customers

WHEN the Western Farmer has a good crop which can be sold at a price that returns him a profit, the benefits are wide and many. The railway and the local storekeeper, the tax collector and the elevator company, the automobile dealer and the radio manufacturer—all these and many more are affected favorably when the farmer has a surplus remaining after his year's effort. Even cotton goods are purchased—as likely as not the product of this company. So the weavers in the town of Mapog, P.O., get more work when wheat crops and their prices are good.

LIKEWISE this company must share its prosperity with a great diversity of people. The employees, who are mostly from the Eastern and Quebec farms of a generation or two ago, are today users of products of other farms because they are working in the factories to provide cotton goods for farmers and other Canadians both East and West. As our city population grows, Canadian agriculture becomes less dependent on the uncertainties of world markets for farm products.

CANADIAN industry and Canadian industrial workers are the Canadian farmer's most dependable customers. Dominion Textile Company Limited, because of an unexcelled record for steadiness of employment, is, through its 7,000 employees and their families, one of the most dependable portions of that dependable market.

EASY MARK FOR TAXATION

In the 18-year period since the gasoline tax was first levied, governments have accumulated a unique variety of reasons for jumping it to its present levels.

In 1919 it was imposed by North Dakota, New Mexico, Colorado and Oregon. All four states adopted it for the logical purpose of constructing highways and maintaining them. On this ground there never was any great objection.

Since then government ingenuity has gone to absurd limits in proposing other reasons, some of which have necessarily increased the price to the consumer. The tax has been variously classified as an excise, a commercial charge for the privilege of using vehicles on the public roads, a license tax, and sometimes an occupation or privilege tax.

The simple truth is that gasoline has been an easy mark for revenue purposes and the tax on it has shown a steady increase. Were the taxing jurisdictions frank about it, they would admit this as the reason which appeals to them most. It is easy to collect and it brings in big returns.

As late as 1922, the rate in 17 of the U.S. states was only one cent a gallon, only two charging as much as 2 cents. Now 7 cents is a fair average. In three provinces of Canada it is 8 cents. In four others it is 7 cents. Only in two, Ontario and Quebec, is it as low as 6 cents. —B24

"Were it not for previous experiences of what Premier Aberhart and his government are capable of, I would be amazed at his effrontery in refusing the refund of the deposit. Even following the unpopularity and cowardly action of the premier and his legislative satellites in repealing the Recall Act while the petition was in circulation, which obviously was to save the premier's own comfortable position, I do not think the government would go to the limit of confiscating the sum which it holds in trust for the promoters."—A. A. Balchey, High River.

In answer to some of our readers we wish to make it very clear that our opposition to the fantastic dreamer is not based on political bias. The Echo is not a political paper, but in the interest of justice and a "square deal for everybody" has and will oppose foolish legislation by either Liberal, Conservative or any other government. The most reprehensible aggregations of Utopian dreamers that ever posed as the friend of the people is so-called Social Credit government of Alberta. Led by a religious fanatic, they capitalized on a world-wide depression to obtain power by misrepresentation and promises of $25 a month for every adult.—Athabasca Echo.

MINERS TO CONVEY AT CALGARY JAN. 5

One of the largest conventions of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, will be held in Calgary on January 5, when delegates will discuss wage scales pertaining to the coal mining industry. Angus J. Morrison, secretary of the district, said this morning.

Mr. Morrison said the convention would deal with wage scale matters only, and would outline demands to be made on coal operators when the present agreement expires on March 31, 1938.

He stated the United Mine Workers, District 18, was now practically 100 per cent organized. The convention would be the largest in the history of District 18, inasmuch as it now embraces all coal miners on Vancouver Island. The district president, Robert Livett, will preside over the meeting.

Mr. Morrison said an invitation had been received recently from the Nanaimo local, United Mine Workers of America, for Calgary officials to attend the opening of the new headquarters at Nanaimo, but due to pressure of business, it was uncertain whether local delegates will attend. John L. Lewis, Committee for Industrial Organization head, also has been invited to attend.—Calgary Herald.

Young Boy Great Artist

Critics Declare Exhibit in Paris Gallery First Class

Paris has discovered a Mozart of the palette. At the age of eight years, Gerard Singer has on exhibition in a large Paris gallery a series of water colors and drawings which the critics unanimously term first class. Gerard Singer received no instruction; his natural instinct approaches that of Dufy and Matisse.

Gerard Singer has never seen the sea, yet his marines are among his best works. The gem of the exhibition is his skidding scene among high mountain peaks. The faithfulness of his drawing, the harmony of his white tones and the movement of the skider arouse astonished admiration of the spectator.

Most curious is that Gerard Singer has neither the appearance nor the tastes of an infant prodigy. His appearance, his habits, are those of a little boy indistinguishable from many others. Also, far from spoiling his gift by flattering his precocity, his advisors have wisely decided to let his talent develop naturally under patient and persevering labor.

A Timely Warning

List Of Measures To Prevent Carbon Monoxide Poisoning

As low a concentration as 25 parts of carbon monoxide in 10,000 parts of air is sufficient to cause death in from three to 10 minutes, Dr. Gordon Jackson, M.O.H., Toronto, warned in listing measures against accidents in connection with "the invisible death."

"The chief source of carbon monoxide is probably illuminating gas, which, according to life insurance companies, is responsible for more than 90 per cent. of the deaths attributed to gas poisoning," he states in his report to the board of health.

"The practice of warming up motor engines while the garage doors are closed, and its often fatal result, is an every-day occurrence," he went on. "Motorists who persist in this are actually inviting death."

To prevent carbon monoxide poisoning, he listed the following warnings:

- (1) Never run motor indoors without opening garage doors.
- (2) Never sit in a car for prolonged periods with windows closed and motor running.
- (3) Never get under a car, the motor of which is left running.
- (4) Keep radiator fan-type heaters closed when travelling slowly, or if following closely behind other cars.
- (5) Have carburetors adjusted for complete combustion, rather than for pick-up and power.
- (6) Never use rubber hose connections for gas appliances.

Emergency treatment for carbon monoxide victims:

- (1) Remove the patient quickly to the open air. Speed is essential.
- (2) Send for medical aid at once.
- (3) If breathing is stopped or feeble, at once start artificial respiration.
- (4) Keep patient in recumbent position, and apply heat when possible.

To Retain Land Fertility

Alberta Municipal Convention Wants Trees Grown On School Land

Menace of drouth's encroachment upon sections of Alberta now free from it was seen by delegates to the annual convention of the Alberta Association of Municipal districts. Resolutions aimed at constructive measures to retain land's fertility was adopted.

Drouth and dust storms are becoming more prevalent each year, and the drouth belt is working its way northward, bringing with it insects injurious to the country, one resolution said. As adopted it asked the government to adopt constructive measures immediately to save the land, asked the department of education to instruct school children in protection of bird life, and urged that remaining school lands be not sold but, instead, be used for tree growth.

It was urged—also that farmers with 10 or more acres of bush on any quarter-section be encouraged to retain that bush and that the area be exempt from taxation.

A companion resolution said that because soil-drifting is becoming prevalent on some lands still classed as arable, and since no tax reduction has been offered as inducement to leave such lands seeded in grass, the government should make tax-exempt arable lands which are placed in grass for periods of from three to five years, with details of the plan to be left in the hands of the field crop commissioner.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

CHRISTIAN REST

Golden text: Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Matthew 11:28. Lesson: Matthew 11:28-30; Hebrews, Chapter 4. Devotional reading: Revelation 22:1-5.

Explanations and Comments

Christ's Rest for Burdened Hearts, Mt. 11:28-30. Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. But it is more than likely that Jesus intended his comforting words to have the far wider application which has always been given them through the centuries since. And I will give you rest—not rest from the burdens that burdened souls.

The Gospel of God's Rest, Hebrews 4:1-11. The last words of the preceding chapter (verses 17-19), read: "And with whom was he displeased forty years?" Was not with them that aimed, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? And to whom swore he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that were disobedient? And we see that they were not able to enter in because of unbelief. Now in the beginning of the fourth chapter the writer argues that these words imply a divine promise of entering into God's rest. Throughout history God had held out to the world the vision and ideal of rest and peace, but up to the present the great promise of God had not been appropriated by humanity. The people of Israel might have inherited it, but their obstinacy and hardness led them to revolt. The psalmist repeated the promise in his day and generation, but once again the people refused to grasp it. The unrealized promise is still available for Christians, if only they will seize the opportunity of making it their own.

The word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith. Faith is simply the soul's grasp, another for a friend, of another for a principle, but always the soul's grasp, the entrance of the soul into its true and healthy relationship to the object which is offered to it.

Position Is Secure

No Danger Of Porters Being Replaced By Hostesses

With the advent of hostesses on railroad trains comes also the prediction that the Pullman porter with his spottish jacket, his toothy grin and his "Yasuh, boys" will soon be as extinct as the buggy whip.

Don't believe it. As long as travelling salesmen ride the rails and as long as congenially loquacious guests still congregate in the smoker, there always will be a Pullman porter, lurking somewhere around, says the Kitchener Record.

Hostesses may be "chic" and they may have "personality plus" as the roads advertise. But you couldn't slip half a dollar into one of their palms and get that upper 12 changed magically into a lower seven.

And when a bright-eyed young hostess pokes her head into the berth to announce, "Thirty minutes to Montreal, sir," then that will be going too far. The porter still has his place on trains.

Prospect For The Cancer Patient

A former president of the United States was found by his doctor to have a small round spot the size of a quarter dollar on the roof of his mouth. Microscopical examination revealed the presence of cancer. The entire half of his upper jaw was promptly removed in an impromptu hospital established on a vessel in New York Harbour. Within a month the President had been fitted with an artificial jaw and had delivered an important message to Congress. He remained well until his death from another cause 15 years later. It was not until after this event that the public learned for the first time that the head of the nation had been ill or that he had had an operation.

The astounding success in the treatment of cancer by surgery; its cure in certain areas by means of X-rays and radium; the determination of governments, medical and hospital authorities and of voluntary organizations to conquer the disease, lend courage to the victims of cancer and relieve the obsession created by its seeming prevalence.

The greatest obstacle to the cure of cancer is delay in diagnosis and treatment. This delay is deplorable. McGarity the pathologist in the Mayo Clinic, says that 30 to 50% of cancers of the breast, 42% of cancers of the large intestine and 75% of those of the stomach, seen in that clinic, are inoperable. In spite of the delay, the American College of Surgeons had collected authentic evidence of nearly 30,000 cases of cancer cured for periods of five years and upwards.

The facilities for general education of all kinds are better than at any former period. The prospects for the cure of cancer were never so bright. No disease, with the possible exception of tuberculosis, has created such an atmosphere of interest; no single one is so much discussed in public.

There is a curious lethargy and fatalism in the minds of some persons concerning this malady; such persons regard a diagnosis of cancer as a verdict of death. Such a view is all nonsense. There must be on all hands a will to conquer cancer, a will that has done so much to conquer smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid fever, malaria, cholera, tuberculosis and the plague. Cancer is no longer a hopeless disease.

As a record of mining effort from 1881 onward in the West, and a personal visit this summer to Flin Flon, the story is worth preserving. Over 50 photographs were taken for this story.

The weekly newspapers in conjunction with six daily newspapers of this province have had to finance expert counsel to defend liberty and a free press in Alberta against the Aberhart government before the Supreme Court of Canada, and possibly later before the Privy Council. Although the false statement has been made "that the newspapers are in the pay of the financial interests," the weekly editors know better, and also know who will have to pay the bill, and resent this hardship being placed on them.—Ex.

GEOLOGICAL MAP OF ALBERTA

A new geological map of Alberta has just been published on a scale of one inch to sixteen miles. The map is printed in fifteen colors as soft tints which are easy to read. Each color represents a certain division of geological time which is designated in the legend. On the black base is shown the geography; the geological boundaries; and the culture, which includes the township and range lines; all the railways; the cities and several towns. All the surveyed lines, including the base lines, are shown.

The topography is shown by brown contour lines, with 400-foot intervals up to 5,000 feet. The topographical and geological data shown on this map have been compiled from maps and reports published by the Topographical Survey and the Geological Survey of Canada, and by the Research Council of Alberta.

About one-half of the entire area of Alberta remains unmapped geologically in detail. It is only a part of the foothills and the plains of Alberta in the south half of the province which have been mapped in any detail. Only two geological divisions are shown within the Rocky Mountains, namely, the older Precambrian and early Palaeozoic in the western part, and the Palaeozoic and older Mesozoic in the eastern part of the mountains. The Precambrian area in northeastern Alberta is undivided as detailed geological surveys have not yet been made.

In the foothills and plains the distribution of all the major geological formations in the Cretaceous and the Tertiary are shown. The map can be relied upon as a useful guide by anyone interested in the mineral development in Alberta. A pamphlet is being prepared which will describe the geological features which have been included.

The map has been compiled by Dr. J. A. Allan of the Department of Geology, University of Alberta, and is a revision of the geological map which he prepared and which was published by the Research Council of Alberta in 1925. This revised edition has been published with the co-operation of the Department of Lands and Mines, Edmonton. Copies of the map may be secured on application to the Department.

Sold: The tailor was selling his best friend a new suit. He was raving about the garment. "I'm telling you, Harry," he said, "that even your best friend won't recognize you in that suit! Just take a walk outside for a minute and get the feel of the garment." Harry went out and returned a moment later. The proprietor rushed up to him with a happy smile. "Good morning, stranger," he beamed. "What can I do for you?"—"T-tit-Bits."

A DICTIONARY MIGHT BE AN ADVANTAGE

This is the year of strong words in Alberta—a passing phase like the year of the Big Wind. Take the simple word "exterminate" as an example. It has had a good many people rifling the pages of all-too-little-used dictionaries.

The Lethbridge Herald has discovered another portentous term—"pillory"—The Herald quotes the advice of Major Douglas to Premier Aberhart, Sept. 8, 1936, as follows: "I should not hesitate to pillory by name, either through the press or through the agency of the radio in every possible way, those who refuse to assist."

Now "pillory," according to the dictionary means to set the offender in an instrument of torture, or to punish by public disgrace. Is it nice to introduce suggestions of thumbscrew and racks into the amicable life of Alberta? These Britishers are so forthright, mediaeval. All this British enlightenment seems to be driving us backward to the era of the Red Man on Alberta plains.

"Exterminate" was not such a felicitous choice of word either. And indeed the "Bankers' toolies" pamphlet bristled with fighting words. Whoever the author of this opus may have been, it is a safe bet that he is quite a reader of Kipling. There is a strong Kipling influence in his vocabulary.—High River Times.
